About the Beneficiary

The Heart & Vascular Institute’s Women’s Heart Wellness Program

The Women’s Heart Wellness Program represents Hartford HealthCare’s dedication to identifying, treating and, whenever possible, preventing cardiovascular disease in women. Our providers deliver comprehensive, personalized and compassionate care to women at risk for, and those living with heart disease. During a woman’s initial encounter with the program, she receives a gender-specific risk factor screening to address her cardiac risk factors, symptom assessment, a physical exam and a personalized plan to reduce her risk. Patient education and overall wellness are central to the care we provide.

Our Women’s Heart Wellness providers see patients in Farmington, Hartford, Manchester, New Britain, Norwich and Windham. We also offer a peer-led WomenHeart Support Network for women with heart disease. Led by trained patient volunteers, these groups provide personal support, information and encouragement.

The Women’s Heart Wellness Program is just one of a host of specialty programs within Hartford HealthCare’s Heart & Vascular Institute. The HHC Heart & Vascular Institute has 55 locations and nearly 400 providers across Connecticut and Western Rhode Island and is nationally recognized for the high-quality cardiology care it provides its communities.

NEW!
Postpartum Hypertension Clinic

Hypertension, more commonly known as high blood pressure, affects many new mothers during pregnancy and after childbirth. Uncontrolled high blood pressure during delivery or after delivery can put women at greater risk for developing heart disease later in life. This is where the Postpartum Hypertension Clinic comes in.

This year all new moms delivering at The Hospital of Central Connecticut who experience severe high blood pressure before, during or after delivery will be referred to our specialty clinic for follow-up monitoring and care.

Our team of cardiologists and advanced practice providers have special expertise in managing high blood pressure during pregnancy and postpartum. As part of the program, our goal is to have a cardiology specialist see new moms within 72 hours of discharge from the hospital. Together with the patient, our cardiology specialist will review blood pressure logs and ensure the right medication management following delivery, as well as discuss risk factor screening and healthy lifestyle changes to reduce the risk of future heart disease. Women will receive a blood pressure cuff at hospital discharge to assist them in accurately monitoring their blood pressure.

Our goal is to have these women stay heart-healthy for life!

Sponsorship Opportunities and Benefits

Why sponsor this event?

We attract a broad audience that consists of patients, women from the general community, small business leaders, physicians and other healthcare providers, and healthcare administrators.

Every year we offer an educational component by two of our leading female cardiologists that focuses on what every woman should know about heart disease and reducing their risk. And because everyone knows that laughter is the best medicine, we add a dose of comedy to the evening with seasoned stand-up entertainers who will leave your cheeks hurting at the end of the night. We also bring in a host of local vendors that offer our guests a chance to have a fun, relaxed evening with their family, friends or coworkers.

This year all proceeds from your sponsorship will go toward the resources necessary to bring the Postpartum Hypertension Clinic to patients at The Hospital of Central Connecticut. More specifically, these funds will support the purchase of blood pressure cuffs that will be given to our patients to help them accurately monitor their blood pressure for their physician appointment with our cardiology specialist after their discharge.

We hope you can support this long-standing signature event and our innovative new program!
